

NMA FACULTY CONCERT SERIES PRESENTS:

“BACH TO THE FUTURE”

MUSIC OLD AND NEW FOR FLUTE, VIOLIN, PIANO AND NARRATOR

Newton Music Academy faculty members Olga Litvintsova (violin) and Sivan Etedgee (piano), are joined by flutist Amalia Etedgee and narrator Talia Brown. Created with both children and adults in mind, this program will feature chamber music by J.S. Bach (Flute Sonata in B Minor and Trio Sonata in G Major), as well as the Musical Fairytale “Molly the Magnificent” by Anthony Green and the recently composed Zoom Tube for solo flute by Ian Clarke. This concert will last approximately 45 minutes in length, and is appropriate for children ages 5 and up.

“Molly the Magnificent” is a magical story about a little girl who no longer wants to be a human!

Find out what a torrential downpour leads Molly to DO, THINK, and DREAM.

Have you every wished you could be someone, or something else? Molly sure has.

She is sure things will be perfect, if only her wish could come true...

Sophisticated music for piano and flute by composer Anthony Green guides this exciting story of determination, suspense, and magic. As well as listening, children will enjoy learning and singing the catchy song “I wish I was a fish!”

The presentation allows children access to sophisticated music in a fun and engaging manner.

This program is perfectly suited for children from Grades K-4. Parents will enjoy the show as well.
